Spring Has Sprung!

The days are longer, the weather is warming up, and spring has sprung! That means it is officially spring-cleaning time. We all have heard the mantra: Reduce, Reuse, Recycle. Always remember to reuse and repurpose before you recycle! Avoid the “throw it away” mentality and think of ways you can repurpose an item instead.

Start your spring cleaning by reducing first. Go room by room and go through your drawers and closets. Group together the items that you have not used in a while. If you forgot that you had the item or you cannot remember the last time you used it, it is probably a good indicator that you no longer need the item. Wait! Before you recycle or dispose of it, see if there is a way to reuse or repurpose that item. A simple internet search could help you find ideas on how to reuse and repurpose, but here are a few ideas to get you started, as well as some other spring-cleaning tips:

- If you have old furniture around, see if it can be re-finished or re-upholstered. Upcycling furniture is one of the newest trends. Do it yourself or check your local community for an upcycling business.
- Old fabrics, blankets, or sheets can be cut up into smaller sections and used as rags.
- Birthday cards or holiday cards could be used as scrap paper, or for arts and crafts projects.
- When doing your actual cleaning, try to avoid as much waste as possible. For example, when cleaning windows, mirrors, or surfaces, you can use old towels or rags instead of paper towels.
- Items that you do not want or need anymore but still have some value can be donated or even sold. Even if they do not have any purpose for you, someone else might find the need for them.

While repurposing and reusing instead of just tossing items may bring in less revenue for the Tehama County/Red Bluff Landfill through less recyclable commodities sent to markets, the reduction of materials and reduced vehicle trips to the landfill provides benefits such as extending the life of our landfill and conserving valuable natural resources. Diverting material from the landfill enables Tehama County to operate our landfill longer.
